

Abdul Hakim Shabazz, Awards Gala Host

Abdul-Hakim Shabazz is an attorney, award-winning political writer, and television commentator. He has been covering and writing about state and local government in Indiana since 2004 and, before that, in Illinois—for nearly 25 years.

He is with the law firm of Lewis and Wilkins in Downtown Indianapolis.

He hosts the “Abdul at Large” talk show on WIBC-FM 93.1 and writes opinion pieces for various news publications across the state. He’s a frequent panelist and contributor to Fox 59’s IN Focus and “Inside Indiana Business.”

Shabazz also is editor and publisher of IndyPolitics.org, which has been recognized by the Washington Post two years in a row as one of the best political blogs in the nation.

He is also the host and Executive Producer of "Indiana Issues" a weekly public affairs program heard across the state.

Abdul is a graduate of St, Louis University School of law and is also licensed to practice law in Indiana and Illinois. He holds teaching positions at the University of Indianapolis and Ivy Tech Community College.
