

Michael Mohler

Michael Mohler is an Associate in the Indianapolis, Indiana, office of Jackson Lewis P.C. His practice focuses on representing employers in workplace law matters. Much of his practice concerns workplace discrimination, including harassment and retaliation, both at the agency level and in court. Prior to joining Jackson Lewis, Michael clerked for Magistrate Judge Tim A. Baker of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Indiana. While attending law school, Michael worked in his school's Workers' Rights Clinic, assisting in pro bono representation of employees in wage and hour and discrimination claims. He also clerked for a Phoenix firm where he defended wage and hour claims and successfully prosecuted non-compete agreements. Michael was a member of the University of Arizona's Transactional Law Meet team and the Arizona Law Review. His undergraduate degrees are in Culture Studies and History.